

lecture

Being a team is not just working together, being team is also doing fun things together

A COSMIC INSIGHT ON TEAMBUILDING

Sergey Ryazanskiy,
Astronaut, Motivational speaker,
A Hero of the Russian Federation

What is this lecture about?

During this lecture Sergey Ryazanskiy talks about following issues:

-
- How to define a modern leader;
 - Motivation role in shaping an effective team and establishing adequate goals;
 - Trust and responsibility as key factors for teamwork;
 - Finding compromises and skill of arguing "respectfully".

Length:

120 minutes

Structure:

- lecture
- QA
- practical tasks

Target audience:

- Business owners and entrepreneurs;
 - Managers of all levels;
 - HR-directors and their vices;
 - Candidates for executive positions.
-

Learning objectives:

- You will learn about effective work in stressful conditions, concept of predictable risks and get some solution examples developed in space;
 - Working with a team "imposed" from above, its cons and pros, opportunities and risks;
 - Discuss issues that arise in a multinational team, relationships between central office and divisions: how to share responsibility areas and achieve the common goal.
- 